

IPMG presents:

Making the Most of Your Waiver

Each year, every Hoosier receiving an Autism, Developmental Disabilities, or Support Services Waiver participates in the person-centered planning process as part of the case management services you receive from IPMG. Your IPMG team creates a plan of support that makes the things important for you (such as your health and safety needs), as well as what is important to you (such as your goals, dreams, and ambitions) the center of all activities. By placing your needs, dreams, and life goals first, IPMG provides ‘person-centered’ case management to each and every waiver recipient.

Attend “Making the Most of Your Waiver” to find out how to put the pieces of the person-centered planning process together to best meet your needs! The person-centered planning process is utilized by your entire IPMG team to continuously evaluate and meet the needs that are important to and important for you. Come learn how your annual meeting, person-centered description, and annual assessment fit together to create a person-centered plan of support that meets your needs and helps you achieve your dreams and goals.
